

12 x global challenges - 12 x workshops

CITIES SAVE THE WORLD: LET'S REINVENT PLANNING

The ISOCARP2015 congress comes at a time of unprecedented global urbanization. Voices from the global level down to the ground - in both the public and private sector - are calling for a 'planning' approach to address the complex challenges that this brings. The congress is an exceptional opportunity to open up to the world, work together and learn from each other. Hosted by The Netherlands, Belgium & Germany and spread across twelve workshops, the work of 500 participants comes together in one place: Rotterdam.

We offer access to collective knowledge gathered via the interactive platform.
